maximizing return
minimizing risk

Market Situation

In the present market situation when investment opportunities are flourishing there are ample bright scope of long term & short term investment. Simultaneously being the competitive & globally sensitive market, driven by difficult to predict parameters, exposes the investors to inherent risk from which there is no escape.

Here we need to clearly understand & mutually agree upon one thing that speculation backed by vision only can minimize the risk & maximize the return. Along with this an expert's inputs are required to foresee the expected shifts of the market & according plan out the strategy. For the same a need is to consult experts who keep close watch on the market & give prompt advice in order to get desired return on investment along with nullifying risk.

Inception

Considering the unfulfilled need of a prospective investment an opportunity, we have come up with an initiative that puts itself apart from other players in the segment in terms of conveying value to investors.

What investors speak about

Mr. Valentine Fernandes, B.Com, M.B.A. (Media Professional)
Mr. Chandrakant Shankhla, B.A., LLB. (Legal Practitioner)

Looking at steady growth of Indian economy & the market opportunities I was attracted to invest in stock market. But due to my busy schedule & time constraint could not allot time for the same. I always opted to subscribe to some systematic investment advisor's services & after joining Maruti Investment Services, I have got something more than I was expecting.
